Week 25,

We've had a lot going on this week for many of our children in the school and as we approach the end of the Spring Term (where has that time gone?), we have got an extremely busy week ahead; lots of dates for your diaries!

Today saw all of the children coming into school wearing something red in the name of Comic Relief. We had red t-shirts, red socks, red bows, red everything! Thank you all for the effort you put in and well done to those children who won their Classes 'Funniest Joke Competition!'. The winners will be telling their joke in our Values Assembly next week. In total we raised over £140! Thank you all for your generosity.

Reception treated us to an amazing assembly to get our Friday morning off to a good start; it was lovely to see so many parents present for the children's first assembly of this kind! There was singing, phonics, Science and performing all rolled up in 20 minutes!!! Congratulations to all of the children who did themselves proud!

Another proud moment was the teams of children that went to the Millfield to perform in the dance festival, both groups of children were amazing, being confident to dance in front of such a large audience. Thank you, Jo, for your continued hard work and inspiration.

I hope that all of the parent's consultations have gone well and they reflected the hard work that all of the children and staff have been putting into time at school. I have certainly seen a lot of nervous faces as children were on their way to their meeting which then turned into smiles of relief when they were leaving.

This was the last week for clubs, which I know the children really enjoy. Booking for our clubs for the Summer term will be opened on the website next week, the link will be sent soon.

Next week we are taking part in the 'Big Walk and Wheel 2026!'. This is a period where we encourage our children to come to school either walking, cycling, scooting or wheeling in any way they can. It helps the environment by cutting down the number of children coming to school by car and also promotes a healthy living lifestyle! The Eco Councilors will be tracking how the children get to school each day.

In our final week before Easter, we have:

- Book Fair Monday-Wednesday 3:30pm
