Week 21,

It's the first week back and we are busy already. I am writing this from a very quiet school after the last of the Year 3 sleepover children have left, it was an amazing sleepover, the children were all really well behaved and we slept from 11.20pm until 6.30am (I even had to wake some children up!!). Thank you to everyone who supported this event I know the children thoroughly enjoyed themselves.

We also had an amazing Year 4 Assembly this week, such good acting, loud voices and singing, thank you to Mr. Martin who rewrote all of the songs to make them educationally correct. Lots of parents commenting on how entertaining the whole event was, well done Year 4.

This week we have invited parents to join the Year 2 Ocean Math's sessions, both of which were very busy and enjoyed by all. Dickens class had a fabulous time at the Guild Hall and were very well behaved, I hope that Shakespeare class enjoy themselves when they go next week.

Year 6 had their practice SATs run this week, with us trying out different groups of children with the different staff that we use, in different areas. Once these are marked, we will be working on the areas that we are still finding tricky.

Next week is the launch of World Book Week, I hope that your children are already working on the long list of challenges that we sent early earlier this week, the children have a month to complete and evidence the challenges, the winners will be picked on March 24th so that they can choose their own prize from the book fair which is arriving that week.

Don't forget that Thursday is Book Day and we are all dressing up, this is also 'Reading Café' day so that you can all get to see the amazing costume creations that the other children are wearing.

FOCS have a used book stall organized for after school on Tuesday 4th March, this would be the idea time to add to your child's personal library.

I'm getting a bit tired now, enjoy your weekend!

Stronger Together,

Melanie Scull
